I found Kathryn's name through a google search of wedding poems after my daughter and her fiancé asked if I would do a reading at their wedding.

From the moment I contacted her, I realised that this was going to be a great choice.

Kathryn was always quick to reply to my messages, she communicated very well with me and worked with enthusiasm and passion on the poem incorporating all the ideas and facts that I had included.

The poem was a great success. The fact it was personalised to the couple's lives made it very special indeed - even the registrar commented on how lovely it was.

I would highly recommend Kathryn's bespoke poetry service to anyone looking for a personalised poem for a special occasion and have already passed her name on to friends who have children with upcoming weddings.

Thank you so much Kathryn!
